GENERAL NEWS.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN)

Archbishop Purcell's Delinquency.

CINCINNATI, Jan 20—An effort will be made to adjust the financial troubles of Archbishop Purcell, which have been creating considerable excitement among Roman Catholics of this city, by placing a large portion of church property in the hands of five trustees who will issue bonds payable at will in three years and within twenty the bonds bear five per cent interest. It is expected these bonds will be taken largely by those having deposited money with the Archbishop. It is now ascertained that his liabilities will reach half a million dollars. In the meantime strenuous efforts are being made to have the pope decline to receive his resignation.

WASHINGTON CITY

The Arizona Railroad Matter.

WASHINGTON, Jan 19—Among the official papers sent to the senate by Secretary Schurz in answer to a resolution inquiring by what authority a railroad is being constructed through the public domain in Arizona territory are two letters from the register Poster, of the Florence land office, dated November 20 and 23d, in which he encloses to the commissioner of the general land office certain maps filed by Charles Crocker as agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad of Arizona, as having been adopted by that company, for construction of the road under authority of the general law of March 1875, granting right of way through the public lands to any company duly incorporated under state or territorial authority. Register Poster, in each letter says the survey of this proposed road is within the limits of the land grant to the Texas Pacific Railroad company, and he therefore in submitting the maps asks for instructions. Secretary Schurz informs the senate that no action has been taken on any of these maps, and that he has not received a copy of the organization papers of the company, but is informed by the register at Washington that a copy will be furnished at an early day. Secretary Schurz also transmits to the senate a letter from the secretary of the territory, stating that the company are pushing the road as fast as possible and expect to reach Maricopa Wells by summer when they will stop work for a while. A resolution of inquiry was offered by Butler of South Carolina, in behalf of the Texas Pacific company, as a means of embarrassing or possibly preventing the further construction of the road over Scott's land grant but from present appearances it is not likely to be passed.

A Substitute for Edmunds' Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—Democratic senators in caucus to-day agreed upon a substitute for Edmunds' resolution declaring the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments equally valid with other amendments of the constitution. The substitute while recognizing the binding force of the amendments named in Senator Edmunds resolution as pro... of legislative action in conflict with decision of the supreme court, particularly in the Cruikshank case, holding that the constitution does not confer the right to vote on anyone, but simply confers the privilege of exemption from any discrimination on account of race, color, or previous condition and that the regulation of suffrage belongs exclusively to the several states

The New York Nominations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20—The Republican of to-morrow will print the following upon the pending New York nominations: It is very generally conceded that the New York custom house nominations will be eventually confirmed. No action will be had in the premises, however, until after a reply has been received from General Arthur by senate commerce committee to charges alleged against him in an executive session to the senate last Wednesday. These charges are capable of ready and satisfactory explanation in the opinion of Senator Conkling and his friends, and if they are so explained a rejection of the pending nomination of Merritt Burk... may ensue, but it is confidently believed in administrative circles that they cannot be satisfactorily answered or disposed of. Among them is the charge that, owing to Gen. Arthur's reappointment, the government lost $375,000 per annum in unpaid duties on kid gloves and $3,000,000 per annum on silks.

Arrest of U. S. Officials for a Fancied Offense.

Information has been received at the department of justice of the arrest by warrant of certain municipal authorities in Alabama of U S District Attorney Mayer and U S Marshal Turner, the latter now being in jail and the former having been released on a writ of habeas corpus issued by U S District Judge Bruce. The circumstances are that a municipal or state court in Selma issued an order to District Attorney Mayer Marshal Turner and Dimmock, clerk of the county, commanding them to appear and bring before it the ballot boxes and ballots used in the election last November. These ballot boxes and ballots were, at the time in question, being used by the grand jury of the U S district court sitting at Montgomery as evidence in a certain case therein pending on indictments for violations of the election laws of the United States. The state court claimed that they were required by it at once for uses in similar cases for the violation of state election laws. The officers made a return to the process served upon them to the effect that the ballot boxes and ballots were not in their possession or under their personal control, but were in the custody of the U S circuit court. When the writ had thus been returned to the state court, the judge of the latter instantly issued writs of attachments for the bodies of Mayer and Turner, and directed their commitment for contempt.

Morgan submitted a substitute agreed upon in the Democratic caucus for Edmunds resolution concerning suffrage and later constitutional amendments laid on the table

The following are the resolutions

Resolved, As the judgment of the senate that the 13th 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution of the United States are as valid and binding as any other part of the constitution that the people of the United States have a common interest in the enforcement of the whole constitution in every state and in the territories of the United States and that it is alike the right and duty of the United States as far as power has been delegated to them to enforce said amendments and to protect every citizen in the exercise of all rights thereby secured

Resolved, That the government of the United States and governments of the several states are distinct and each has citizens of its own who owe it allegiance, and whose rights within its jurisdiction it must protect, that the government of the United States is one of delegated power alone its authority is defined and limited by constitution and all powers not granted it by that instrument nor prohibited to it by the states are reserved to the states respectively or to the people and that no right can be acquired under the constitution or secured through the laws of the United State except such as the government of the United States has authority to grant or secure

Resolved That the constitution of the United States has not conferred the right of suffrage on any one and the United States have no voters of their own creation in the states but the 15th amendment of the constitution has invested the citizens of the United States with a new constitutional right which is exemption from discrimination in the exercise of the elective franchise on account of race color or previous condition of servitude and it is within the jurisdiction of the United States which congress may exert by appropriate legislation to prevent the denial or abridgment by a state of the right of a citizen to vote when such denial or abridgment is on account of race color or previous condition of servitude of the voter

Resolved That when such right to vote is denied or abridged by the conduct of a person who is not so acting by authority and obedience to the laws of a state the jurisdiction to punish such conduct is in the state government and is not in the government of the United States

Consideration of the bill to amend the patent laws was resumed

The question being on concurring in amendments made in committee Windom moved to lay aside the bill temporarily and take up the special appropriation bill to procure time to prepare an amendment which would make the bill more acceptable to his constituents

Pending discussion the senate went into executive session when the doors were re opened

House

Potter asked leave to offer a resolution authorizing the investigation of the cipher dispatches and to have it adopted under suspension of rules but Butler having objected on the ground that he wished to debate the resolution, it was agreed that Potter should report it to morrow after the reading of the journal

The resolution recites that certain alleged telegrams in cipher have been published indicating that attempts were made after the presidential election of 1876 to influence by money or other fraudulent methods the vote of electors or the action of canvassing officers in the states of Florida, South Carolina and Oregon. It therefore directs the committee on investigation of election frauds to inquire into the same and into any other matter connected with such election which in its judgment may be proper with power to send for persons and papers and to report at any time also appropriating $10,000 for expenses

House bills introduced and referred

By Wright (of Pennsylvania)—To prevent the adulteration of articles of food and drink

By Money—To pay certain mail contractors of the southern states for carrying mails prior to the war

Cummings desired this bill to be referred to the committee on claims but the house, by a vote of ayes 1 8 nays 112 refused. It was sent to the committee on postoffices.

By Durham—To repeal all laws in regard to the appointment and pay of supervisors of election and their aids

By Turner—To regulate the charges on Pullman palace and other sleeping cars

By Bright—Making trade and Mexican dollars legal tender

By Aldrich—To make ships tugs and other vessels engaged in commerce between the different states or between the United States and foreign countries liable for debts contracted by their owners or agents

By Dunnell—Regulating all acts relative to the pre-emption of public lands and also to the survey of and sale of public lands

By Straight—To reduce the price of public lands with in railroad limits.

Knott chairman of the judiciary committee reported a resolution to defray the expenses of the Davenport and Blodgett investigations adopted

The house then went into committee of the whole on the bill to provide for settlement of all outstanding claims against the District of Columbia and conferring the jurisdiction thereof on the court of claims

Eden opposed the bill as conferring unlimited jurisdiction and opening the door to all sorts of claims for damages in connection with the changes of grades etc. He offered an amendment limiting jurisdiction to cases of contract arising since 18... The amendment with some slight modification was agreed to. The committee then rose and the bill was reported to the house and passed

Springer introduced a bill to secure to the people of every state equal and just representation referred. It provides that after the next census the legislatures of each state shall apportion the state under the census of 1880 so as to provide that when more than two members of congress are elected in a state, that the state shall be divided into districts of three members each as far as possible and when there are two odd representatives that is over three or six or nine etc there shall be one district consisting of five members. In districts consisting of three members, every elector shall vote for only two members of congress and in districts entitled to five members every elector shall vote for three members. He presented in connection with his bill, a statement showing that under it there would have been elected at the last November election from southern states 34 Republicans instead of 28 or a Republican gain of 6 while the Democrats would have realized a like gain in the north that the general result would have been the same but that the Republican minority at the south and Democratic minorities at the north would have been fully represented in congress and that the four millions of colored population could now control the election of 22 members in the following states: Alabama 3, Arkansas, 1, Georgia 3, Louisiana 2, Mississippi 2, North Carolina, 3, South Carolina 2, Tennessee 2, Texas 2 and Virginia 2. THE INVESTIGATION

POMEROY Jan 14 1879

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In the columns of the Herald of the 10th inst is ... had a communication from Roseburg over the ... le plume of "One who Knows". I have ... this letter with some care and though I do not know who is the author I conclude that he has seen military service and that he is quite an expert in quartermasters and commissaries service and duty otherwise he would not use language like this toward the investigating committee. Hear him. And had the committee been composed of men who had sufficient military experience to enable them to examine quartermaster's and commissary accounts and also sufficient honesty to have reported facts correctly they would not have fallen into such error

And further on he says "In fact all articles of property whatever were duly accounted for on regular returns. Now if the statement made by One who Knows be true then there was nothing in the world for the committee to do but to say that there was no fault to be found in the accounts, and that the returns of the quartermasters and commissaries were full complete and final. I am sure that the committee would have been delighted to so have found the affairs of these officers. What a shame it is that Brother in law Barker did not go to the committee when by them he was requested to go and show them that all ... every thing every horse every article of clothing every blanket every pair of boots every pair of shoes that big medicine chest and all else purchased by the quartermasters for the Modoc war were accounted for and returned according to army regulations and save the committee from falling into such an error" But are the statements of One who Knows true. Have the quartermasters and commissaries made such complete and satisfactory returns. Many young Democrats up this way like myself think not. We have noticed that persons who are inclined to defend and hide cover over or shield official corruption fraud and dishonesty first attack the committee say nothing about guilty officials but slight, abuse and ridicule the committee. They must first destroy the character and standing of the members severally individually collectively and jointly as citizens as officials as members of the legislature and as members of the committee. All this accomplished, and the track will be open and clear for the plunderers. Would be leaders may pull as much as they please in that direction but their following will be small. The people are honest and want honest officials and they want official plunderers exposed and punished and made to disgorge every dollar stolen or plundered in any way and then the people would be pleased to see all such villains left to make their living by honest industry or starve.

We have confidence in the honor capacity and integrity of the Investigating committee and believe that in regard to the quartermaster's accounts and returns they did not fall into such an error but reported the facts as they found them. Nothing like all the property purchased by quartermasters has been accounted for nor in my judgment ever will be. One who Knows to the contrary notwithstanding. And further One who Knows tells us that Gen Hardie inspector general U S army thoroughly investigated these claims and recommended their payment. Well, we are obliged to Gen Hardie. He was on special duty when at such work outside of his regular line of duty. But army officers generally understand the duties of the various branches of the service, consequently he was qualified to pass upon the Modoc war claims. He did his duty and before now congress ought to have passed a law to pay the claims as recommended by Hardie. But did he say that he had examined the quartermaster's accounts and returns and had found all state property correctly and properly accounted for? Not at all. So far as he was concerned he had just as soon the state would lose the property not then accounted for as not. That was no business of his. He only passed upon what was manifest and not upon what was not and made no remarks upon what he did not see, nor could be seen and that has not up to this time been accounted for, and perhaps will not be

I shall take no further notice of "One who Knows" but will truly say that I am sorry that the official conduct of our late state administration afforded good and sufficient reasons for raising a committee to investigate their official conduct. I am proud however that a Democratic legislature did, as soon as they saw the necessity for investigation by joint action create and appoint a committee of honest, capable members, two of the senate and three of the house. Their duty required them to examine into all the deep and dark mysteries of official corruption, embezzling and stealing that had prevailed at and about the capital for years, and well did they do their duty. Everybody ought to thank them. Official corruption and dishonesty must be crushed out

The swamp land complications have been a fraud from the beginning. The selecting and locating swamp lands was a most damnable fraud upon the state. The sale and management of the swamp land funds is and was a black fraud. The swamp and bonds are a fraud and everything connected with swamp lands has been and is a fraud. Swamp land acts in whole and in part were conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity, and monstrous and unholy things have come out of the wicked monster. Among them has been found an absolutely false and lying certificate of $30,000 bearing upon its face the name and official seal of our young state of Oregon ... filed first by May and again and worse by Chadwick. Poor unfortunate virgin she was

Now for myself I must be permitted to say that I had entertained for Grover a good opinion. The finding of the committee has left a doubt and as he himself has lately made an explanation from his seat in the senate I will make no comment until I have seen his explanation. As for A. ... Brown whose claims are now to be adjudicated by the courts I have heretofore believed him to be an honest good fellow. The state printing seems to have been done by others measured and paid for by others or those in whom he confided and trusted. Further I have nothing to say. The courts will decide and we will be content. I will not defend or in any way uphold official dishonesty. It must be rebuked and crushed out. Now I ask what can be thought of one who did certify to a willful lie and caused the greatest seal to be attached. Think of the explanation given: think of the man elevated to office by Democratic votes charged with the duty of guarding the people's hard earned money holding the key to the vault where their money is deposited not one dollar of which can be legally taken out without his warrant betraying that high trust. I will say no more. I hope our governor will institute proceedings to recover the amount fraudulently taken

THE EXECUTION OF APS.

HANGING OF THE THIRD OF THE COGGAN MURDERERS.

Another Impressive Scene—Aps Protests his Innocence—Good Counsel among the Indians.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO THE OREGONIAN]

PENDLETON Jan 17 1879

Aps the last of the trio of Indians found guilty of the murder of George Coggan in July last was executed to day in the presence of a large concourse of people assembled in the jail yard. The particulars of the murder and subsequent arrest and conviction of the Indians accused of the crime have already been furnished the readers of THE OREGONIAN. Aps though not engaged in the actual shooting of Coggan and Bunker was proven to have been accessory thereto and as such was found guilty. His story is that after the white men had been shot he arrived in the vicinity and seeing the horse of Coggan running off pursued and caught the animal which was taken away from him by the hostile Snakes who were also on the ground. Not having been concerned in the actual shooting he in common with the other Indians cannot understand why he should be made to suffer the extreme penalty of the law. Until last night Aps entertained strong hopes of being reprieved and a final commutation of sentence, but as the hours sped on he gave up all hope and prepared himself for death. Last night a petition was circulated asking for commutation with the intention of sending it to Umatilla to be telegraphed to the governor but when this fact became known a counter petition was gotten out protesting against any clemency. The latter carried the day. Indeed the person who circulated the petition for executive interference was roughly handled by a crowd of excited citizens and the petition taken from him and destroyed

At noon to day a large number of the Indian friends of the condemned man were allowed to visit and bid him farewell. The ceremonies were of the same nature as performed over White Owl and Quit a Tumps though perhaps a little more demonstrative. Aps was gorgeously arrayed in his new habiliments his face, hands and breast painted a brilliant yellow hue. Standing in the doorway with the Indians closely circled around him Aps addressed them as follows his words being interpreted to your representative by Mr John McBain the government interpreter at the reservation

"I am glad you have come to see me. This is the last time we meet on earth my body dies to-day, but my soul will go to God. I am innocent of any wrong. If I have done wrong at any time I hope the Great Spirit will wash it away. My brother will wait for me, but when the bugle sounds we will all meet again and never be divided. We have all got to die, I hope you will all live so that after death we will meet again, always try and do good. Once more I bid you goodby. I am dying for nothing. God is my witness to what I say my body shall be covered up with the earth my soul will go to God my soul is leaving now. I tell you the truth, I have done nothing wrong in the presence of whites and Indians I assert my innocence. I want all of you to be good to be friends of the whites let there be no more trouble you must keep quiet and have good hearts. If you do right after death you will see the Great Spirit if you do wrong you will never see Him

Cach-cach one of the Indians present next spoke calling upon his people to listen to the voice of death, to remember what had been just told them and respect forever the request that their brother had made

Ya wash an old and influential Indian next spoke, directing his remarks to those of the white people present saying "I am glad to see you here friends. We are all of one father. Our souls all go to God to render up our account. I hope that from this day all will be quiet. Our eyes and hearts see what we do to day. Your children and ours are growing, may they always live in peace. I hope that from this day no more trouble will happen and both sides remain in peace. If wrong has been done we ask pardon of God

An old squaw the wife of Massey next addressed Aps telling him his time had come to die that he must prepare to meet his death and think no more of living but of meeting the Great Spirit

Cach cach resumed, stating that he desired now to show his heart to the people. All the Indians who have spoken have given good advice and no hard feelings against the whites existed among the Indians. We believe in God the same as you do and when we talk before death we dare not lie for He hears us! Aps has told us not to have hard feelings against the whites and so our hearts now speak! We hope that we may again regain the confidence of the white people and be respected as we were years before

During the delivery of the speeches the death song was chanted several times by all the Indians present and the last farewell taken of the prisoner, who was visibly affected as the fatal hour approached. He had desired to die with the other Indians on Friday last. Then he said he could have died as brave as they did but to die alone made his heart feel small. A striking illustration of the superstitious nature of an Indian was fully exemplified by Aps refusal to occupy the cell he had shared with his companions after their execution. Totally indifferent as he appeared one week ago to-day witnessing with complacency the execution of his brother and White Owl after their death he feared even the possibility of encountering their spirits should they visit him. After the ceremony of leave taking was over the jail yard was cleared and preparations made for carrying out the death sentence. At 12 30 o clock the ponderous gate was again thrown open and those who had secured tickets of admission were allowed to enter. Over 100 persons including a delegation of Indians and a number of women and children were present one little chubby faced boy, too young to realize the awful solemnity of the scene even standing upon the coffin at the scaffold steps in his anxiety to view the hanging. Aps was speedily brought out and ascended the scaffold with a firm step. Reaching the platform he stated that he had a few words he would like to speak. He was allowed to do so. His request granted he said

"Friends, I have but a few words to say. My body is already turning to dust my soul has gone to the Great Spirit. You put a rope around my neck. It is the same as dirt but you cannot kill my soul. It will go to where all is clear. My body is afraid but my soul is not. It has gone to God. I die innocent. I think I am innocent. This is all.

At the conclusion of his remarks his arms and legs were pinioned the black cap put over his head and the rope adjusted about his neck. During this time he continued singing his death chant until the drop fell at six minutes past one o clock. His neck was broken by the fall but it was not until ten minutes had elapsed that life was pronounced extinct by the attending physicians. After the body was cut down it was delivered over to the Indians who took it with them for interment

Great praise is due to Sheriff John Sperry and his assistants for the manner in which the execution was conducted. Many were in favor of making the poor wretches suffer as much as possible in retaliation for their crimes, but to the credit of all concerned the sentence imposed upon the condemned murderers was carried out in strict accordance with the law and as humanely as possible

Rev Mr Talmage Excited

In his sermon in Brooklyn on the 12th January Mr Talmage said in relation to recent attacks upon him in the comic papers and police gazettes

While some of these falsehoods may have excited your mirth there is one that is different because it invades the sanctity of my home. It has been stated that sixteen years ago I went sailing upon the Schuylkill river with my wife and sister and that I allowed my wife to drown while I saved her sister marrying her in sixty days afterward. I propose to nail this infamous lie on the forehead of every man who shall utter it, and I invoke the law to aid me. Talmage then read from a paper which he had prepared a complete account of the unfortunate catastrophe on the Schuylkill. He was in a boat with his wife and child, his own sister and her child. Knowing nothing of the dam they were swept over it and the boat was upset. His wife was instantly sucked under by the strong current his sister the two children and himself were saved by clinging to the gunwale of the boat. At the time this sad accident occurred he had never seen or heard of his present wife and was introduced to her for the first time nine months later by his brother. He would pay $100 to any responsible witness who in future would give him the name of any responsible person who dared utter this libel again

The "star of empire," in taking its way westward does not stop ... Four wagons laden with emigrants passed through Dayton last week and while dad sat outside and drove the team ma and Sarah Jane sat inside with a good fire in the stove, frying flapjacks for the old man and singing "Get up Billy we'll soon be thar" ... the go ahead spirit of the country

The Olympia Experiment states that Mr H G Struve contemplates a change of residence early in the spring. He will probably make Seattle or Portland ...

THE LATE CALEB CUSHING

Obituary notices of the late Caleb Cushing which are appearing in the eastern papers do not fail to recall the reputation which long attached to Mr Cushing of political insincerity. Many of them reprint the oft quoted lines in Mr Lowell's Biglow Papers

> General C is a dreffle smart man
> He's ben on all sides that give places or pelf
> But consistency still wuz a part of his plan
> He's ben true to one party an' that is himself
> So John P
> Robinson he
> Sez he shall vote for General C

We find also an extract from a letter written by Gov Andrew of Massachusetts to whom Mr Cushing had tendered his services at the outbreak of the rebellion. The offer was declined in the following terms

Under the responsibilities of this hour, remitted both as a man and a magistrate to the solemn judgment of conscience and honor I must remember only that great cause of constitutional liberty and of civilization, itself referred to the dread arbitrament of arms, and I am bound to say that although our personal relations have always been agreeable to myself, and notwithstanding your many great qualities fitting you for usefulness, yet your relation to public affairs, your frequently avowed opinion touching the ideas and sentiments of Massachusetts your intimacy of social political and sympathetic intercourse with the leading secessionists of the rebel states maintained for years and never (unless at this moment) discontinued forbid my finding any place for you in the council or the camp. I am compelled sadly to declare that were I to accept your offer I should dishearten numerous good and loyal men, and tend to demoralize our military service. How gladly I would have made another reply to your note of the 25th inst which I had the honor to receive yesterday, I need not declare nor attempt to express the pain ful reluctance with which this is written

It is noted as a curious fact by Sir Samuel Baker that a negro has never been known to tame an elephant or any wild animal. LAND SURVEYS

During the first session of the present congress a bill was introduced to consolidate the several offices of surveyor general for all the business of the states and territories and to establish a central office at Washington City, the business of those offices to be under the commissioner of the general land office. Congress gave the bill his approval as a matter of course, because it would place all the patronage of these consolidated offices in his hands. Late thought was given by its authors to the effects of it upon the new states and territories. The bill was referred to the committee on public lands of the house of representatives. Prof Hayden who was an applicant for the position of chief surveyor general under the proposed bill was active in trying to have it become a law, and one of the reasons urged was that the local surveyors general had done a large amount of surveying in sections of country where the lands are desert and therefore of no value. Perhaps to some extent this statement is true but there is much less in it than has been generally supposed, since we are all rapidly learning that sections of country once universally supposed to be valueless are really among the best we have not only for permanent grazing lands but also for cereals and other products. The house committee last session after examining whatever evidence they could find, reached the conclusion that the local officers were much better informed as to what surveys were needed than an office situated in Washington could be, and in consequence refused to report favorably on the bill. The scheme of abolishing the local offices has no supporters in congress except among the members from eastern states where there are no public lands to be surveyed, but where most of the surveyors would be employed from if this bill should become a law. Friends and supporters of the measure have not given up their efforts, however, and we now learn that they have transferred their work from the public lands committee to the committee on appropriations, through which they are trying to prevent appropriations for support of the local offices, as well as extension of surveys, unless the change they demand is made. This is a subject in which the western states and territories have deep interest, and they should certainly protest against a scheme so manifestly contrary to sound policy. Our country still needs liberal appropriations for extension of surveys. Here in Oregon and Washington many settlers are outside the surveys, and can get no title to their lands until the lines of survey are extended around them. Again, the situation is complicated still further by the numerous and large land grants to corporations, the limits of which, until surveys are made, cannot be known. In consequence there is great embarrassment to settlers and injury to the country. Not more than half, indeed we think less than half, the area of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, has yet been surveyed, and along the line of land grants settlers are in great perplexity as to whether they are on government or railroad lands. If the business be left in the hands of the local officials their better knowledge will indicate what lands ought to be first surveyed and if suitable appropriations be made, many of the difficulties and embarrassments with which settlers are now beset and hampered will soon be removed. But if this consolidation scheme be carried out, then the section of country which can bring most political influence to bear will get most favors, and other sections will be left without surveys for years to come. Oregon should protest against the proposed change, and it is hoped her representatives in congress will see the necessity of opposing the measure. It is not claimed that the present system is perfect, or that no abuses have arisen under it. But at least it has served a good end in securing surveys for the accommodation of the country, and as it is not likely it can be improved it should be continued till the whole public domain is surveyed. Settlers should be enabled to know when they take up land that they are not within the limits of some railway or wagon road grant. The effort to place this important part of the public service wholly under central influence at Washington is a job quite fit for the persons who are engaged in it. Prof Hayden has himself been drawing from the treasury very large sums regularly for many years past for making trigonometrical surveys in the western territories, and has employed to assist him those who have been fortunate enough to command "influence" at Washington, and altogether they have had a good thing. A delegate from New Mexico once showed up this business in the house of representatives, explaining how it was that money could be commanded for these fancy expeditions while the same parties were bringing all possible influence to bear for prevention of surveys actually needed for accommodation of the growing settlements of the country.

INCREASED REPRESENTATION

For several years there has been more or less jealousy and antagonism between the eastern and western divisions of our state. By the Dalles Inland Empire belief is expressed that by 1880 the state will have population enough to entitle it to another member of congress, and it thinks this sectional feeling can then be allayed by dividing the state into two separate congressional districts. But we doubt whether by 1880 we shall really have the necessary population. As a basis for organizing the supreme court our legislature has, indeed, assumed that the state contains two hundred thousand inhabitants but we have strong doubts whether the census to be taken next year will show so many. Nevertheless there may be a sufficient fraction over the number required for one representative to secure the admission of another on proper showing, but still it is to be anticipated that the basis of apportionment for members upon the next census will probably be considerably enlarged. Therefore if we should have nearly two hundred thousand, we might still not get the additional member. The Inland Empire refers to the case of California in 1860 when "it became evident that the state, which had but two representatives, was entitled to three. A bill was submitted to the legislature redistricting the state into three districts, it being agreed that each party should nominate a candidate who should take his chances of being admitted to a seat. The Democrats nominated Humphrey Griffith of Yolo and the Republicans put up Frederic F Low of Yuba. The latter was elected and went to Washington to claim his seat, which he had no difficulty in doing. The house was Republican like himself and he was cheerfully admitted on his own showing. We shall elect our member of congress in June, 1880 which probably will be before the census can be made known. The legislature will assemble in September by which time we shall have the returns of population and if the number appears to be large enough that the legislature can then provide for the election of another member in November when the president is elected and take the chances on securing his admission.

We read in the Bee a disclaimer that it is "Mitchell's organ." For whatever it might have been formerly, it says its present publishers have no responsibility. If Mr Clarke, its present editor would maintain this he is pursuing a rather injudicious course. The paper is strictly following its old course of approving and defending every act of Mitchell's and making attack on every one who is supposed to be hostile to his interests. He can not be criticised in any matter whatever unless it flies to his defence. It repeats the stale slanders it formerly employed against all who do not bow before the Mitchell shrine and even magnifies some of them as witness its utterly silly assertion that THE OREGONIAN was subsidized to support the crow ticket last spring, that its editor made over $15,000 per annum as collector, and that "Mitchell made him." This is rather more recklessness even if that were possible than it used to exhibit in that antecedent state from which its present editor wishes to assure us it has taken a long and wide departure. Mr Clarke cries "Give us a rest." It is he who should practice the precept. When THE OREGONIAN spoke against the mean, small, tricky and contemptible pretext on which Mitchell is trying to get Postmaster Cole out of office this faithful organ rushed at once to his support and defence. If its editor do not wish it understood that he is conducting a "Mitchell organ" it would be good policy on his part not to show so much alacrity in undertaking Mitchell's work. All this may not indeed, be worth the space we are giving it, but since certain nominal changes have been announced, it is well enough perhaps that the real situation be made plain.

The superiority of national bank currency over every other kind of bank paper ever put in circulation is thus clearly stated by the leading Democratic paper of the country, the New York World: "For nationality of circulation, currency in every state and territory with no liability to annoying percentages of discount, security against counterfeiters and substantial safety for the note holder and for the depositor alike we scarcely expect to see a better paper money or, if a few modifications were made, a better banking system. The national bank note is every way preferable to the government promissory note which is called a legal tender, but which for all that like the promissory note of an individual is simply debt and not money."

If S A C wrote to the Sacramento Union in 1875 that Mr Scott was author of the so called Mitchell resolutions of the Albany convention, he must have been cultivating inaccuracy of statement for use in his present editorial post on since in point of fact the person named was not author of one line or syllable of those resolutions. Whenever a Mitchell organ wishes to say anything very mean about the editor of this paper it taunts him with having once been among Mitchell's supporters, and now Clarke, in the new position into which he has somersaulted, has got at it. Let us admit that it was a "youthful indiscretion," and give us a rest.

Since most of the Democratic journals of the state excuse the official misconduct of the Grover Chadwick administration on purely partisan grounds, it seems all the more commendable to find one now and then which speaks plainly as the Coos Bay News in support of the committee of investigation. That paper says: "It is scarcely possible that a committee composed with a single exception of Democrats would make a report, holding up to public condemnation men hitherto leaders in the party, unless in the opinion of such committee to whom all the evidence is accessible, the facts imperatively demanded it."

Mr Clarke kindly says THE OREGONIAN has no friends. Since the patronage of a newspaper is the measure of the esteem in which it is held, THE OREGONIAN has no reason to complain of lack of friends. However, we may say this paper is not published on friendship, but on the cash system. If it were running on friendship it would soon become as poor an excuse for a newspaper as the Farmer and Bee.

CITY.

New Sentimental Songs.—A friend at our elbow has handed us for publication the following list of titles of sentimental songs which are quite as pretty and hardly more idiotic than those of a good many drawing-room favorites. "Darling, slumber while you wake!" "I loved thee ere I loved thee." "My fair brunette." "Blow, gentle storms" "List to the noiseless murmur." "Fond memories of days to come." "The silvery winds are beaming." "The forest mermaid." "Ope, the brimming wine cup's dry." "Oh, is thy shadow ever bright?" "Saharan boat song." "Oh, ruddier than the lily!" "'Tis joy to grieve for thee." "We never met, and now we part." "The babe's farewell to his grandam." "The dumb girl's song." "The silent fleets of Switzerland." "Now the morning sun is setting." "Oh, had I the wings of a wild gazelle!" "Sweet tresses wreathed in smiles." "Norah, thy closed eyes on me gazing." "In death I'll live for thee." "Oh, play me the stringless lute!"

A Work of Art.—A very handsome and artistic picture, painted by Capt. Rockwell, of the coast survey, representing "A Smoky Sunrise" on the Columbia river, is on exhibition at Morse's. In the foreground is the river's broad bosom, upon which an ocean vessel with bared yards and masts lies in motionless majesty. About her are a number of river craft; to the right a steep and wooded bluff, and enveloping and obscuring all a dense smoke, while beyond, the dimmed, red sun, just raised above the horizon, casts a half dazed glare upon the calm waters. The picture is really a gem, and was admired yesterday by many hundreds of people.

Laswell Heard From.—Says the Inland Empire: "This paper has been disposed to regard Hon. W. B. Laswell as having been murdered by some of a gang of trampers that hang about the levee. But last Monday night, Nelson Patteson, who had just returned from the Willamette valley, stated that when in Albany, he met Ad. Edgar, formerly of this place, and he told Nelse that the missing man had been in Albany some time, keeping pretty quiet, but he was all safe and sound. Take it for all in all it is a mysterious affair, and one which excites considerable comment."

Navigation Resumed.—The channel of the Columbia between The Dalles and Cascades is entirely clear of ice and the O. S. N. Co's steamer Idaho reached the latter point yesterday without difficulty. The Hayward reached the Cascades and connection was effected. Regular trips will be made hereafter between this place and The Dalles. The river is gorged with ice at a point a few miles above Celilo but it is thought that the river will be clear in a day or two. The O. S. N. Co. hope to send a boat through to Wallula Thursday of the present week.

Temporary Interment.—The remains of all were interred yesterday, notwithstanding the intention to remove them to their resting place among kindred at the east. A number of leading citizens were present as a token of respect for the man and of sympathy for the bereaved and deeply afflicted wife. A few appropriate words were spoken at the grave, and a prayer offered, by Dr. Lindsley. A public vault has long been felt to be a necessity at this cemetery; and this case furnishes another illustration of the need.

At Astoria.—The following dispatch was received here yesterday morning from & Upshur: American ship Storm King left here for sea at 8:30 A. M.; steamer George W. Elder arrived at 10 30 A. M., and left for Portland at 1 P. M; British ship Berkshire arrived down at 11 A. M; Ocklahama arrived at noon, with barge load for the Southern and Nairnshire; E. N. Cooke left with barge for Portland at noon. At 1:30 P. M. weather was cloudy, bar very rough, southwest wind, tide falling.

W; J. S. Dobbins, G. F.; Isaac Chilberg, O; N. Crosby, G., F. Shurcraft, R.; Jno. L. Henderson, F.; C. B. Mann, Rec; Chas. Gourdon, I. W; H. Howard, O. W.; J. W. Wanghof, physician.

Quick Time.—The steamer Oregon crossed the Columbia river bar last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, bound for San Francisco, reached her destination yesterday at 10 A. M. The Geo. W. Elder sailed from San Francisco for this port last Saturday at 10 A. M., reached Astoria at 10 A.M. yesterday, and arrived here at an early hour this morning.

Insane Patient.—Sheriff J. B. Crossen of Umatilla county, arrived here last evening from The Dalles, having in charge an insane patient named George Burgermeister. The unfortunate man is aged about 29 years. He was committed to the asylum last evening.

Bound for Portland.—The new, commodious and elegant steamship State of California sailed from Philadelphia for Portland direct, with passengers and freight, on or about the 1st of February.

Supervisor Appointed.—The county court yesterday appointed Mr. George Long supervisor of road district No. 8, in place of Henry rieve.

AMUSEMENTS.

Manager Maguire's Benefit.—A crowded house greeted Maguire last evening, the occasion being the complimentary benefit tendered him by the citizens of this city, Mr Samuel Piercy and the dramatic company. The play selected was the romantic drama of "The Marble Heart," or "The Sculptor's Dream," an adaptation from the French, by Charles Selby, Mr. Pierce appearing as "Raphael." The play is well known to our play goers, and requires no comments. It is essentially romantic, ideal and amatory. Mr. Piercy fully sustained his high reputation in the difficult role. He is the true representative of the tragic muse, and lighter things fall below his strong genius, still he touches nothing that he does no adorn, and his acting last night was filled with those subtle tints, those delicate blendings of light and shade which are the highest proof of true art. Mr. Piercy's "Raphael" stands alone among his many delineations known to our stage. In the intense scenes of the second and third acts he is truly unapproached and the remorse and death of the last scenes left few dry eyes in the house. He was enthusiastically applauded throughout the play. The support was excellent. Miss Walters as "Marco," was all that the most exacting could wish for, we have never seen this lady to better advantage. Miss Georgie Woodthorpe, as "Marie," added greatly to the interest of the drama. The grace and tenderness with which she invested the character left nothing to be desired by the audience. Mr. Lindsay gained great applause as "Volage" a philosopher of the Optomist school, who has studied mankind, and delights in making sharp epigrammatic sayings on humanity. The character, very Frenchy, is a pleasing one, full of wit and humor, and Mr Lindsay's "Volage," last night, was one that deserved favorable mention. Mr Sutherland was commendable as "Veaudose," and Mr. Ward's "Chateaumargeaux" was excellent. The beneficiary first recited "The Light Brigade," received a most enthusiastic reception,—in fact a perfect ovation, the applause being kept up for two minutes, which goes to prove the good feeling the citizens have for this gentleman. He also appeared as "Robert Emmet" in the trial scene of that play and as "O'Callaghan" in the comedy of "Irish Mesmerism" and acquitted himself in a more than creditable manner. Mr. Walter Leman delivered an original poem, "The Drama," in a capital manner. Emmet Guard appeared in their lightning drill and were well received. This evening Boucicault's play of "Arrah na Pogue" will be presented with a strong cast.

A BOLD, BAD BURGLAR.

Last Saturday evening Mr. L. M. Cox, who resides on the corner of Ninth and Montgomery streets, came down town about dusk. Shortly afterward his wife, who sings in the Congregational Church choir, left home to attend choir meeting, her little son going across the street to the house of Mr. Peterson to stay until his parents' return. Mrs. Cox had been gone but a short time before the boy looking over saw a light in Mr. Cox's house, and called Mr. Peterson's attention to it, but it was suggested that perhaps Mrs. Cox had forgotten her book or something of that kind and returned for it. The lad watched the light awhile and not being satisfied ventured across the street with the purpose of investigating. When he got near the house he began to call lustily for his father and then for his mother, neither of whom, of course, were in hearing. Mr. Peterson, however, ran over just in time to see a man leaving the house in great haste. Upon searching it was found that the burglar had broken a pane of glass from a rear window and pried up the sash, thus gaining ingress to the building. He had then unlocked both the front and back doors, so as to be able to more readily effect his escape in case of pursuit. This done, he went through the house searching in almost every corner and place for booty. A bed was torn up and scattered on the floor, boxes and trunks ransacked and the contents thrown around promiscuously. A small sort of a safe belonging to Mr. Cox's little boy was in one of the rooms and the top of this was knocked off. It contained some certificates of deposit, 25 cents in coin and nine 3-cent postage stamps. The scamp knew the certificates would probably avail him nothing, so he left them, but appropriated the two bits and the stamps; much less in proportion to his deserts than would be a term in the penitentiary. It would seem that his very poor success would have discouraged another attempt on the same premises, but last night the same party, or another with like purpose, tried the same game on Mr. Cox. The second attempt proved even less profitable than the first, for as Mr. Burglar was clambering on the roof of the lower part of the house Mr. Cox, who was at home this time, heard him and began to prepare to give him a feeling reception. In getting to a window overlooking the roof Mr. C. stumbled over some object and made so much noise that the burglar slid off the roof and escaped, much to the owners chagrin, who had a revolver well loaded and ready to fire. Mr. Cox says he has no silver or gold about his house, but such metal as he has he will give unto that robber freely, if he gets a chance.

CATARRH.

Dr. F. D. Johnson, of San Francisco, who is now in Portland and has become a resident of this city, is certainly meeting with marked success in his specialty of treating Catarrh. He has now over one hundred and fifty cases under his skillful treatment, and he has certainly become conqueror of this national disease, as he has many brilliant testimonials from some of the first citizens of Portland. This is what Portland has long needed. He does not approve of advertising, as many have who have be fore him, but proposes to let the work pro self. The doctor's residence is 145 Morrison street, and any order received through the postoffice will meet with prompt attention. Consult him.

To Physicians and Patients.

Call on Dr Edward Henderson, Vitapathic Physician, N. E corner First and Yamhill street, Portland, and have an Electrical Cranial Diagnosis made, which never fails to locate disease of any of the vital organs. Physicians, no matter how skillful, cannot always determine the exact location of disease until, in too many cases, it is beyond control. Dr. Henderson also cures all manner of disease by the use of Magnetism, Magnetic Herbal remedies and Electricity, and is remarkably successful in treating most of the so called surgical diseases without the use of the knife or other surgical instrument.

Catarrh.—This most prevalent and least understood of all diseases is most skillfully treated and permanently cured by Dr. James Keck, 135 First street, Portland, Or. Call and see the Doctor if you have Catarrh. He charges nothing for consultation.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample Bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all druggists

DR. McLENNAN'S Magnetic Institute,

153 Fourth St., Cor. of Morrison,

Is now open for the reception of patients suffering from any of the following diseases; Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cramps, Pains in the Back or Sides, Catarrh, Prolapsus Uteri, and all debility and weakness peculiar to females; Bronchitis and Asthma, Sore Throat, Loss of Voice, Piles, Goitre, Lameness, Total and Partial Paralysis, Deafness and all Nervous Diseases; Fever and Ague, Fever Sores, Spinal Diseases, Debility and loss of vigor in the male, and all weakness brought on by indiscretion or other causes. In short, wherever pain or disease exists it will yield at once to the pleasant, potent, powerful and harmless method of treatment administered at this Institute. Vital Magnetism, nature's great restorer of impaired vital energy, is the principle agent used, together with other subtle and psycological agents.

No medicine used except when upon examination it is found to be wanting, and then only such as are compounded from roots and herbs collected at the proper season, and under the right planetary influences. By this method of treatment the lame walk, the deaf hear and the blind see without using any drugs or medicine.

Special attention paid to old and chronic cases that have baffled all other healers and physicians.

SWORN STATEMENT OF A PORTLAND INVALID.

I have been troubled for a number of months with debility and scrofulous ulcers, have been under treatment with several physicians without deriving any benefit. Two weeks under Dr. McLennan's treatment effected a complete cure.

I would advise those who are sick to call on him, feeling confident that he will give them relief when others fail.

(Signed) JOSEPH THEILER, Canyon Creek, Portland Oregon.

N. B.—This is but a short extract from his letter, which is a long one and can be seen at my office with over 500 other endorsements from patients here in Portland, who are amongst the best class of society. I am willing to forfeit $500 for any case I will undertake and fail to cure. No charges for consultation either in person or by mail at my office, 155 Fourth street, corner of Morrison, Portland, Oregon.

Those desiring to remain under treatment at my Magnetic Institute can receive board at a nursing at a reasonable figure.

All sick persons while from home and in Portland under our care are most tenderly watched over, and nothing is left undone which it is believed will tend to make their stay pleasant and their recovery rapid.

CALIFORNIA ROOT TEA.

The Reliable Cure for Chronic Complaints of Liver and Kidneys.

THE ONLY THOROUGH BLOOD CLEANSER. The most pleasing, grateful and satisfactory Strengthening Balsam known, constantly effecting surprising cures of wasting or debilitating diseases and complaints arising from weak or impure blood, feeble circulation or impaired digestion, when all modes of treatment fail. Is of great benefit in threatened or actual consumption and heart disease, owing to its peculiar and great influence on the circulation. For the ills and weaknesses of women it is Nature's most suitable and reliable remedy.

LIVER—KIDNEYS.

Its regulating and strengthening action on these organs is different to and more desirable than that of any article heretofore in use, for indigestion, biliousness, etc., as a tonic, anti-malarial, etc., it is unequaled, while in chronic complaints it gives relief when all other remedies fail, and is frankly acknowledged to be the only cure for many chronic complaints of a complicated nature.

CATARRH.

The success of the CALIFORNIA ROOT TEA in curing Catarrh is proverbial, and surprises many who do not understand the nature of this terrible disease, which in most cases can be permanently cured only through the blood by a thorough course of this vegetable remedy, conceded to be the only thorough and permanent blood cleanser known, a course of it completely eradicating for all time the most virulent types of blood and skin diseases, rheumatism etc. All who use it, leading druggists and physicians gladly attest its great sterling worth. Sold in its truly vegetable form, in packets at $1; each packet makes a quart of rich balsam, of which the dose is two spoonsful three times daily, making its cost much less than other medicines. Make like tea or put in wine, etc., pleasant to take when nicely sweetened. It is nature's life-bearing balsam—its success assured in advance in all cases. Ask for it and take no drugs or disguised mercury. Six pkts, $5 00. Wholesale by HODGE, DAVIS & CO, Portland, Oregon.

The local market opens this week with a moderate degree of activity, and many business men express a hope that the dullness which has prevailed during the entire month, so far, will soon give place to more animation in the various branches of business incidental to the opening of the spring trade. Monetary matters are quiet with a fair supply of capital in reserve, which can be availed of whenever the demands of business are sufficient to call it out. During the late freeze-up and suspension of navigation a good many men were temporarily thrown out of employment, and their trade with the retail houses was diminished somewhat, as well as their payment of monthly bills with promptness prevented. This causes some complaint of the small amount of cash in actual circulation, more noticeable in the retail than in other branches of business. The banks and other depositories are generally considered to have a fair supply of capital on hand to meet present wants to move the remainder of the season's product.

In the produce market we notice fair receipts with no increased inquiry from any quarter, and but little life to the trade. In breadstuffs, such has been the continued depression abroad, that buyers here have been slow to purchase, except to meet their more urgent requirements, as to load vessels at hand or to fill orders within a prescribed time. The local market to-day has shown no important changes. Wheat is still quotable at $1 67½@1 70; flour, $5@5 25 for best extras; oats, in demand at 45c per bushel; potatoes, active at 35@95c per bushel according to quality; eggs, weak at 22½c; and other products as last quoted.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Acute Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world-wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for this great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.
